

MANY INJURED IN ARKANSAS

Nine Indians Found Dead; Are Frozen to Death in Mountains

Rescue Parties Pushing Ahead With Supplies Toward Snowbound

MANY ARE MISSING

Sacred Ceremonies Are Performed by Indian Medicine Men

GALLUP, N. M.—(AP)—Mourning walls of the Zuni Indians and the sacred chants of their medicine men pierced the air of the Zuni Indian agency throughout Thanksgiving Day as bodies of their tribesmen were brought by relief parties from the snow blanketed malarial mesas of the reservation.

Nine Indians, four of them children, have been found in three camps, frozen to death by the storm which has kept the Indians snowbound in small villages and pinon pickers camps for six days.

Pushing doggedly ahead against freezing winds and through deep snows, 50 horsemen trying to reach Santa Rita mesa where 500 Indians are snowbound, followed the same trail over which Coronado marched his men through a blizzard in the winter of 1540.

The particular goal of those horsemen is a camp where 40 Indian men, women and children are sheltered only by five covered Zuni wagons. They will have to find the other scattered camps on the mesas.

More than 1000 Indians remain to be accounted for.

Fear that their tribesmen are starving and freezing on the mesas is written on the faces of the Zunis at the agency. They recall a prediction of their medicine men that impending catastrophe was foreshadowed by a storm of the past summer which laid bare an area of 80 square miles of Zuni reservation, destroying crops and sheep flocks.

Sacred ceremonies were performed Thursday as prayers for the safety of the Zunis and Navajos marooned in the snow.

This has been the worst storm to sweep the Zuni and the southern Navajo country since 1915, when several hundred Indians trapped on these same mesas by a blizzard died of influenza.

At Zuni reports were received that between 3000 and 4000 Navajo sheep have been frozen to death.

Oklahoma Gives $10,000 to Mexico for Lives of Two Youths

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—State reparations of $10,000 have been promised the parents of Emilio Cortez Rubio and Manuel Garcia Gomez, Mexican students who were shot to death by a deputy sheriff at Ardmore, Okla., last June.

Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma said in a telephone interview with the Mexico City newspaper Excelsior that he would "seek the legislature's permission to send those grieving parents $5000 each as soon as possible."

"I will not wait for an international claims commission to act," he said, referring to instructions sent to the Mexican embassy at Washington declaring Mexico's intention to seek damages.

Terminating the shooting "extremely unfortunate," Governor Murray said no prejudice was shown by the Ardmore jury which acquitted the deputy, William E. Guess, and his partner, Cecil Crosby, on murder charges.

He was rushed to Dr. Lile's office in an ambulance, who dressed the wound, and reported it but a slight injury.

Frank Bell Gets Another Reprieve

Slayer Granted Respite Few Minutes Before Hour for Execution

CHICAGO—(AP)—For the second time in two months, Frank Bell, was snatched from the electric chair a few minutes before the time set for execution, when his attorneys secured a 30-day stay late Thursday night from Governor Louis Emmerson.

Bell, who has resorted to one desperate measure after another to save his life, demanded by the state in expiation for the murder of Christ Patras, restaurateur, was granted special dispensation on a request by Murray W. Garsson, assistant secretary of the United States Department of Labor.

After his arrest for the killing of Patras during a holdup June 16, 1930, Bell confessed participation in the robbery, but said that the actual killing was a man known as "Richard Sullivan." The latter was arrested and pleaded guilty with the statement that he was willing to die if "Bell be made to walk to the chair first."

The pair was convicted and sentenced to die but "Sullivan's" hope was not realized. He was electrocuted October 16. Bell obtained a last minute stay on a plea of insanity. The stay later was vacated, when Bell was found sane.

After his death it developed "Sullivan" had adopted the name as an alias and that in reality he had been a member of a well known Manchester (N. H.) family.

Brown is reported to have become drunk and attacked Taylor, who picked up a shotgun and fired upon his brother-in-law.

After the shooting Taylor went to Felsenthal where he surrendered to Deputy Sheriffs B. H. Hancock and Grady Cobb.

Jury in Pantages Case Give Verdict of Acquittal Friday

Second Trial—Jurors Report After 65 Hours Deliberation

CLAIMS FRAMEUP

Theatre Millionaire Declares Charges Framed to Blackmail Him

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A verdict of acquittal was returned by a jury in the retrial of Alexander Pantages, theatrical producer, accused of criminally attacking Eunice Pringle, a dancer. The jury was out 65 hours.

Pantages claimed the charges were framed to blackmail him.

Case to Jury Tuesday

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A member of the jury considering the charges of criminal attack against Alexander Pantages, vaudeville impresario, indicated to the court Thursday that the jurors were deadlocked on the question of the credibility of witnesses.

Shortly after the jurors went to their chambers they asked permission to return to court and refresh their memories on the testimony of certain witnesses. The court consented.

Asked what testimony they wished to hear, Newell J. Morehouse arose and said:

"All we really want is to have read the evidence discrediting the testimony of the prosecutrix, and the evidence discrediting the testimony of the defendant."

In the three hours that followed, a court reporter read to the jurors testimony bearing on these points. The jurors received the case Tuesday night.

Pantages was accused of attacking Eunice Pringle, youthful dancer, when she went to his offices in an effort to get an act. The alleged attack occurred on August 9, 1929. At the first trial, Pantages was convicted but obtained a retrial from the state supreme court, which declared the trial court had erred in prohibiting testimony concerning Miss Pringle's character.

The theatre millionaire claimed the case was a frameup, resulting from his refusal to purchase the act.

Laval Demands Equal Debt Cuts

France Must Have Reduction if German Reparations Slashed

PARIS—(AP)—There must be no cut in Germany's reparations unless a corresponding reduction is made in the war debts owed by France, Premier Laval told the Chamber of Deputies Thursday, and France can not permit consideration of Germany's private obligations before reparations.

The deputies applauded as he took this stand in a speech defending his foreign policy, an address during which he discussed briefly his recent trip to the United States.

"The best way to cure this economic crisis," the premier said, "is by maintaining confidence in the given word of nations and respect for signatures."

"I can understand Germany's misery, but if France had been Germany's debtor what would they have done? I think I have a right to talk like this without hurting the feelings of the German people."

The trip to Washington, he told the deputies, was the best possible propaganda, since it was calculated to clear up misunderstandings in the minds of the American people.

"They no longer think over there that France wants to dominate other peoples," he said. "They know what sacrifices we have made on behalf of disarmament. They don't suspect us any longer, for they know that France is thinking only of maintaining her own security."

He did not pledge the word of France to anything he said.

Cromer was found dying by the roadside two months ago from bullet wounds.

Farm Board Men Will Review Work

Milnor and Creekmore of Stabilization Corporation, to Testify

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two men who directed the expenditure of Farm Board millions in wheat and cotton purchases will tell the Senate Agricultural Committee Friday how it was done.

These officials—George S. Milnor, general manager of the Grain Stabilization Corporation and E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the Cotton Stabilization Corporation—had full charge of buying 328,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,319,000 bales of cotton to maintain sinking prices.

The committee, seeking new ideas on aiding the American farmer, wants to know whether the Farm Board is on the right trail. It has heard the board's treasury has been lightened by "paper losses" at current prices of $177,000,000 and possibly $25,000,000 more on cotton co-operative loans.

Milnor and Creekmore also will be questioned closely about the operations of the Farmers National Grain Corporation and the American Cotton Co-operative Association. These central sales agencies for hundreds of local co-operatives have received millions of dollars in loans from the board.

National farm organizations early served notice on the committee of renewed pressure in Congress for the equalization fee and debenture plans. They ask that the Farm Board be retained and equipped with these additional weapons.

President Hoover is opposed to the debenture and President Coolidge twice vetoed the fee.

When the committee concludes its hearings it will decide whether to sponsor a searching congressional investigation of every Farm Board activity.

The farm organizations have urged one to "clear the air," confident the board will be stronger than ever. On the other hand, its opponents, including the American Cotton Shippers Association, contend such an inquiry would justify its assertion the board is dangerous and is defying every natural economic law.

Wild Duck Extermination Seen by Game Authority

WICHITA, Kan.—(AP)—Extermination of wild ducks not only in Kansas, but in "this part of the world," within two or three years was predicted by J. C. Doze, former state game and fish commissioner, following a 10-day trip through western Kansas.

He estimated ducks had decreased in number at least 75 per cent in the last two years and advocated that bag limits be reduced from 15 to five birds. A 100,000 added conservation measure he urged that sportsmen kill only drakes.

Earl U. Hardin in Race For Senator

Former Prosecutor of Fort Smith to Seek Long Term

FORT SMITH—(AP)—Earl U. Hardin, former prosecuting attorney of this district, Thursday announced his candidacy for the United States senatorial nomination at the August Democratic primary.

Mr. Hardin said he will propose the abolition of gold as the standard of monetary value, and establishment of a board of standards which would fix the value of automobiles, farm implements and other machinery in general use.

This, he said, would eliminate the necessity of repair shops and jobbers who would handle parts, and bring the price of replacements within the purchasing range of every person who handles machinery.

Two Girls Toast Death, Turn on Gas

Bodies, Clad in Silk Pajamas, Are Found on Mattress

NEW YORK—After drinking a toast to death, two young women celebrated Thanksgiving by carrying out a suicide pact in their apartment in West Fifty-sixth street Thursday.

The bodies, clad in silken pajamas, were lying side by side on a mattress that had been placed on the floor in the kitchenette. Gas was flowing from five burners in the range.

Cracks in the doors were pasted with strips of newspapers and the windows were lined with wet towels.

The victims are Jewel Warner, 20, and Adelaide Levy, 25. Although their source of income remained a mystery, police learned they had been liberally supplied with money until a short time ago.

Lottie Paige, their negro maid, said the young women had complained that they were "broke" and had expressed the fear they would have to dispense with the maid's services.

Opposed to this theory of poverty was a will signed by Miss Leavy in which she left all her belongings, including $1,500 in a bank to her grandmother, Mrs. Adelaide Hess, an inmate of the Home for Incurables in the Bronx. Mrs. Hess had planned on having Thanksgiving dinner with her granddaughter.

The apartment occupied by the girls was sumptuously furnished, the walls lined with autographed pictures of stage and screen celebrities, several inscribed to "my dear Jewel" or "my dearest mad Adelaide." The closets contained more than two dozen expensive dresses and upwards of twenty pairs of shoes. On a table was an empty whisky bottle flanked with whisky glasses.

All were residents of Wright County, Texas, where the Hughes brothers operate a garage. They were en route to Minola to spend Thanksgiving with relatives.

Water Ways Bond Issue Proposed

Will Be Presented at Valley Association Convention Monday

ST. LOUIS.—(AP)—A government bond issue to complete the authorized inland waterway system of the United States, will be one of the major proposals to be offered before the thirtieth annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Association, which opens here Monday for two days.

Several of the speakers have indicated they will support the bond issue proposal, most of them being of the belief it will be impossible to obtain appropriations of any size from Congress for the completion of the unfinished waterways, because of the condition of the federal budget.

The Board of Directors of the association has approved the bond issue method, and while it has been broached at previous conventions of the Mississippi valley waterway enthusiasts, the proposal will probably bulk larger at this year's convention than any of the other questions to be taken up.

The first of about 1,000 delegates from the Mississippi valley, the South, East and West coasts, and other sections, were arriving Sunday night.

Special trains will bring the delegates from the upper Mississippi river states, and special cars have been chartered by delegations from Sioux City, Iowa, New Orleans, La., Youngstown, Ohio, and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Speakers will include Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield of Texas, John C. Cooper of Ohio, and Scott Leavitt of Montana. The annual banquet Monday night will be addressed by Senator Otis F. Glenn of Illinois and Arthur J. Weaver of Nebraska, president of the Mississippi River Navigation Association.

Tuesday's program will include a joint luncheon with the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce at which Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers of the United States Army, and former Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama will speak.

U. S. Trip "One Big Souvenir," Says Josee, Back At Studies

PARIS.—(AP)—Josee Laval again is treading in her father's footsteps. Back in Paris after her trip to Washington, she is following the example of the French premier by plunging into work.

Josee has turned her back on party and similar frivolities and returned to the study of law in which she hopes to gain a degree as her father did in his youth.

"I may never practice law," she says. "But I want to have some profession, some interest in life. I love sports but I can't play tennis or ping-pong all the time as I did on the Ile de France on the way to and from New York."

Dressed in a sober black frock, a black seal jacket and black chaparral, Josee may be seen these days coming and going in the courtyard below the office where the French premier wrestles with the problems of banditry in Corsica and balancing the budget in France. Often she carries her own law books as she hurries off to classes at the University of Paris.

Between classes she manages to find time for sports, of which she is an ardent devotee. Golf and tennis are always included in her weekly schedule. Her visit to the United States Josee characterizes as "one large and beautiful souvenir."

Among her most cherished memories of that trip are a blazer given her by President Hoover and inscribed by him, the moving picture film of the Princeton-Navy football game which she was unable to see and the letter inviting her to give the signal illuminating the Statue of Liberty.

"Wonderful!" is her favorite word for describing her visit to New York. "Next time I am going to make a long stay," she says. "I want to go west and south—especially to see Chicago and California."

Tennessee Mourns Loss of Its Former Governor

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn.—(AP)—Tennessee mourned the loss of one of its most colorful political figures, former Governor Alfred A. Taylor, 83, Thursday as preparations for his funeral were made.

Services will be held at the First Methodist church here at 2 p. m. Friday.

Dr. W. S. Neighbors of Chattanooga, Tenn., who conducted the funeral services for two brothers, Bob and Jim, and their father, Colonel Nathaniel G. Taylor, will officiate.

The Ohio conservation department has tagged 5,000 fish with metal tags to help check on migration, propagation and mortality.

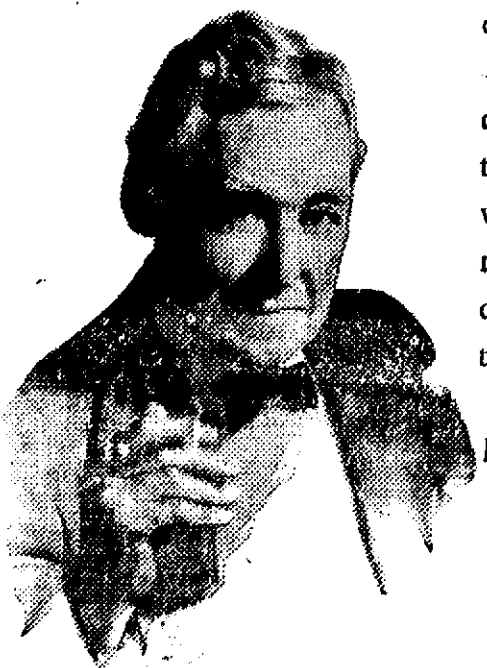

"I'll stand by it!"

"I'll stand by tobacco . . . in good times, in hard times . . . all kind of times . . . it helps a whole lot!"

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now—but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about.

"Why, I remember as a boy, way back, how the old folks in the fall used to pick and cure tobacco from a little patch they'd raised, and save out the best for their own smoking. And my father fought all through the war, and lived to be ninety.

"He'd certainly appreciate what we get today, though. Just think about these CHESTERFIELDS of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes . . . everything up to date.

"A big improvement over the old ways . . . reckon that's why I like CHESTERFIELDS so much. I notice most of my friends get a lot of pleasure out of them, too.*

"But what I started out to say was, you can always depend on tobacco; no matter how things are going. Probably there was never anything in the world that meant so much to so many people, and cost so little, as tobacco—whatever way they smoke it.

"Yes, sir—I'll stand up for tobacco as long as I can strike a match!"

* NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.

File and the Dole

EDWARD A. FILENE, the well-known Boston merchant, is one business man who is not frightened by that dreadful expression, "the dole." Appearing before a Senate committee recently, he declared that every employer should be required to provide employment insurance for his wage-earners, either on a private system or on one established through the government.

The chief benefits of this, he believes, would be indirect. The man out of a job would have an income, to be sure; but Mr. Filene holds that the chief effect of this system would be to make employers take extra pains to stabilize business so that unemployment would be materially reduced.

Whether you agree with him or not, you must admit that he is at least a forward-looking business leader who has devoted some serious thought to one of the nation's most pressing problems.

College "Professionalism"

HARVARD UNIVERSITY athletic authorities have barred from Harvard Stadium a radio announcer who recently referred to the playing of a Harvard football star as "putrid."
 In making public this action, the authorities pointed out that college football players, after all, are young amateurs, and that it is quite out of place to comment on their performances as one would in the case of professionals.

This is quite true; and yet the growing tendency on the part of announcers, sports writers and the general public to treat college football players as professionals seems to us to be at least as much the colleges' fault as anyone's. No law compels any college to build a million-dollar stadium, to retain a dozen coaches on its staff or to hire a press agent to get news about its team in the papers. When a college does these things, can it really protest very convincingly when an unfeeling world applies the standards of professionalism in judging the work of its athletes?

British Dirigibles

WHEN the British air ministry ordered the big dirigible
 R-100 sold for junk the other day, it emphasized once more the rather surprising fact that only the Germans—and, lately, let us say with pride, the Americans—seem to be able to build big dirigibles and make them work.

The British have had shockingly bad luck with their dirigibles. They have sent several on spectacular flights over the Atlantic, but their disasters have outweighed their successes, and few Englishmen will object to the discarding of the R-100. The French and Italians have had an equal lack of success with the big ships.

But the Germans seem able to build dirigibles that are eminently safe and utilitarian. Under German tutelage, Americans have learned the lesson, too. Who her the future usefulness of the dirigible may be, it is evident that it will be demonstrated almost solely by Germans and Americans.

Warm Students
Bring Lots of Cash

HOPE, Ark.—American students who have spent a year in Paris must have brought home from $1,000 to $1,500 and as many as $2,000, it is estimated. They may face misery, educational difficulties and other hardships when they return to America, but they will find it impossible to get New Year's resolutions in the face of the difficulties they will find in finding employment. The difficulty of the question for students to find employment is the greatest.

DeQueen Rooster
Has Pair of Horns

DEQUEEN, Ark.—A seeming cross between a Texas longhorn steer and a white leghorn rooster is owned by Pete Harris, resident of his community. The rooster is well developed and normal in all respects, except for the fact that he possesses two perfectly formed horns, about an inch long.

New York and Illinois were the largest producers of sand and gravel in 1930 in United States.

Vatican to Shuffle Pope's Diplomats;
U. S. Legate In Line For High Post

VATICAN CITY.—(P)—A general shake-up of papal diplomats may follow the consistory which the pope is expected to call in December.

It is understood that Pope Pius already has intimated to some of the legates his intention to transfer them. They made personal reports to him this summer and autumn.

Some of the papal ambassadors will be made cardinals and will retire from active diplomacy. Among these is said to be Archbishop Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, apostolic delegate to Washington.

He stands a chance of eventually becoming papal secretary of state. "Others, who have served long periods abroad will be brought back to Rome for administrative service or will be given posts in more important capitals.

It is considered certain that Archbishop Tedeschini, papal nuncio to Spain, will come here as a cardinal. He has served nine years, lately under trying circumstances. Among others mentioned for change are: Archbishops Felleggrinetti, who has represented the Vatican in Yugoslavia since 1922; Micara, in Belgium since 1923; Sibilla, in Austria from 1923; Cento, five years in Argentina.

Some of these prelates are deans of the diplomatic corps in their respective countries.

Collier was shot through the chest and robbed by a young man he picked up at Cleveland, Miss., and conveyed to the outskirts of Shelby.

Series' Hero Is Back Home

Pepper Martin is back home in Oklahoma City again, and from now on it's going to be one big hunting party after another until the call comes to move south with the Cardinals. The above photo shows the Martin family reunion. Left to right, Mrs. Pepper Martin, Alayne Martin, 2, Pepper's mother, Mrs. Celia Martin, and the Cardinals' world series hero himself.

Barrowed Putter Solves
Shute's Greens Problem

DAYTON, Ohio.—(P)—One reason why Denny Shute, of Cleveland, made such a surprising bid for the national P. G. A. title has just come to light. It is a borrowed putter.

Denny had been having trouble all season with his putting, and it seemed he would not qualify for the United States Ryder Cup team. One of Sciotto's golfers loaned Denny a putter. Denny began dropping them, qualified and won his match in the cup competition.

When he went to the professional championship tournament he took his new-found putter along and dropped, among others, Tommy Armour, British open champion, and Billie Burke, United States open champion.

Shute still has the putter and the owner is unable to get it back. The owner, who once shot consistently in the lower 70's, now has trouble breaking 80.

Four Cucumber Seeds
Starts Farmer's Income

HOPEON, Okla.—(P)—From four small seeds sent him from Syria seven years ago Simon Bouzidon, 53, Woods county farmer and former peddler, has built an income of $10 to month. The four seeds of Syrian cucumbers were planted in fertile soil and by the second year yielded several bushels of seed.

Bouzidon has sold his crops for an average of $2.50 a bushel.

Florida Coach Praises

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—(P)—Coach Charles Bachman of Florida thinks Ed Parnell of his 1931 football team is one of the best ends he ever coached.

Parnell is a senior. He is rated as one of the best pass receivers in Dixie.

PARIS.—(P)—Jules Ladoumague, the flying Frenchman who recently cracked the world's record for the mile, is turning to rugby. He recently rejected a number of requests to run in exhibitions, and obtained a footballer's license, announcing a barnstorming tour of the provinces as a member of the C. A. S. G. club.

French sports followers, however, believe that the country's greatest runner of all time soon will return to the cinder paths.
